

IN THE WOMAN'S WORLD

ENVELOPES FOR TABLE NAPKINS

Napkin rings are said to be out of date. In their place have appeared the daintiest of table accessories, napkin envelopes. These dainty receptacles are made of fine linen that matches the centerpieces and doilies used elsewhere on the table, says a New York Press contributor.

They are decorated with embroidery of course, but here there is opportunity for more elaborate work, and different work, if you choose. For example, a girl can make her own napkin envelope, embroidered with a pretty spray of her favorite flowers and her monogram or one initial in one corner; and this is a good plan, for then if she goes away from home on a visit, it can be taken along to be used by her hostess in place of the usual ring.

When the envelopes are made to match the centerpiece, one is worked for each member of the family, bearing his or her initial, and two of three extra one are made to be used by guests. But for general use each member of the household has his or her own, embroidered especially for the individual.

You can obtain the pattern by opening an ordinary business envelope 6 1/2 or 7 inches by 3 1/2 inches wide. Cut the linen according to this pattern and buttonhole the edges, either straight or in shallow scallops. Then stamp the desired design on the plain portion of the linen that corresponds to the side of the envelope which bears the address when sending a letter. You can choose a design of flowers that will allow a blossom or a spray of leaves to be carried over on the flap, or that space may be reserved for the monogram or initial of the owner.

Another method of making the envelope is to cut an oblong piece of linen 10 1/2 x 6 1/2 inches, scallop and buttonhole the edges. From one end measure 3 1/2 inches and fold the linen over flat, so that it will lay over the other fold as does the flap of the envelope. This done, the embroidery is worked on the outside of the flap and the ends of this oblong envelope are caught together with the buttonhole stitch or by narrow ribbon run through small eyelets that have previously been worked. Ribbon embroidery makes a delightful adornment for these envelopes. Pale blue, pink or the shaded ribbons that come for this purpose and that can be washed, with a skein or two of wash silk floss, is all that is required for the working. A needle with a large eye is used, and you work much the same way as you would in ordinary embroidery.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

To make library paste, wet a cupful of best flour with cold water until it can be stirred easily; have a fire and add it to the flour paste, spoonful at a time, stirring all the while. Should it thicken too much add more boiling water. Cook in this manner for ten minutes. Take it off the fire and beat in a teaspoonful of carbolic acid. When cool bottle in a wide mouthed bottle, through the cork of which thrust a paste brush. If the odor of carbolic acid is objectionable use the same quantity of salicylic acid instead and then add ten drops of oil of cinnamon.

To make a good floor polish melt a trifle less than a half a pound of beeswax and pour it into a quart of turpentine, and add to it 5 cents' worth of ammonia. Put it in a tin pail and set in another vessel containing hot water. Keep on the back part of the stove to heat and keep warm while using, as it can be applied better. Apply with a flannel cloth and polish with a piece of felt or Brussels carpet.

The best method of keeping small screws, brads and tacks from rusting is to place them in small wide mouthed bottles, tightly corked. The bottle should be perfectly dry before using. Sandpaper can be kept perfectly dry and in good working condition by rolling it and keeping it in a wide mouthed jar and screwing down the lid.

To roast blanched shelled almonds put them in a bowl and thoroughly mix two tablespoonfuls of olive oil and a tablespoonful of dry salt for every pound of nuts with them. Then place them in a greased paper bag, tie it at the top and roast them for ten minutes, shaking occasionally.

When buying window shades get an extra set of catches. Put one set at the usual place, the other about a foot lower. In cold weather hang the shades on the lower catches and leave the window down from the top. This gives perfect ventilation and prevents the shade from blowing about.

To make whitewash that will not rub off dissolve glue in hot water and add in the proportion of a pint of blue water to four gallons of whitewash. Gum arabic may be substituted for glue. The walls should be scraped clean and smoothed before the whitewash is applied.

To make a polish for patent leather make a mixture of one part linseed oil and two of cream. Mix it thoroughly and apply with a flannel, after removing every particle of dust from the shoes, and then rub the leather with a soft cloth.

When "doing up" lace curtains fold them lengthwise and starch the edges only. In this way an economy in starch is effected, the curtains look better and they do not so quickly wear into holes as when starched all over.

It is expected that the Hilo Railroad extension will reach Okala the first week in December. It has now reached Kawaihi, three miles from Laupahoehoe, grading for the entire line, which will be thirty-four miles long with the Hamakua terminus at Paauilo, is ninety per cent completed and will be finished early in December.

CRICKETERS TO BE ENTERTAINED

When the Australian cricketers, who have been playing a long series in England, arrive here tomorrow on the Marama, homeward bound, they will find a warm welcome awaiting them from local devotees of the British national game. Arrangements have been made by the Honolulu Cricket Club to entertain the visiting sportsmen, who will be given a rapid-fire whirl round the city, ending with a banquet at the Oahu Country Club, at which about sixty guests will be served.

With the idea of holding the Marama here long enough to entertain the cricketers, and also the ship's officers, a wireless was sent to Captain Rolls, and an answer was received this morning, saying that eleven of the players accepted with pleasure, and that the Marama would arrive about 2 p. m. and not leave until 10 p. m., giving plenty of time for sight-seeing and banquet. Captain Gregory is skipper of the Australian cricket combination.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for tomorrow night are: D. L. Withington, R. A. Jordan, J. R. M. MacLean and J. H. Fiddes.

KING'S DAUGHTERS TO RAISE BUILDING FUND

Now that the ground is broken and everything is in preparation for the foundations of the King's Daughters' New Home in Kaimuki, a month's campaign for contributions toward the building fund, toward which there is $20,000 in the treasury, will be launched. The campaign will come to a close on Thanksgiving Day, at which time the King's Daughters expect to have $75,000 on hand, which sum will be necessary to erect the building and to furnish it.

A large lot for the building has been secured in Kaimuki and the ground has already been broken for the basement and the foundations. The local organization of the King's Daughters has found Honolulu to be in need of a home of this kind, and it has been mainly through contributions given within the last few months that it has been able to plan the fine home in Kaimuki.

The campaign will be carried on in a quiet manner, each of the sixty members having been given a list of twenty names of residents whom they are to canvass during the coming month. It is expected that when the lists are circulated that many large donations will be made at once, as the organization has been informed in advance that the campaign will be met with the right sort of responses. The campaign will close on Thanksgiving day and it will truly be a day of real thanksgiving for the members of the King's Daughters.

All the courts and virtually all other government offices are closed for the day. Governor Frear was at his office only a few minutes this morning. The office of the Territorial Secretary has been open all day however, to attend to the multiplicity of detail coming in connection with the election.
